Download Records Officers

This records officer look-up web page functions as the "list...of all records officers" and their certification status, as required by Utah Code 63A-12-110\(2\)\(d\) to be on our website. You can view all records officers appointed by a governmental entity (search by entity name), or view all entities to which a records officer is appointed (search by record officer's name).

 Utah Records Officer Search

- "Records officer" means the individual appointed by the chief administrative officer of each governmental entity, or the political subdivision to work with state archives in the care, maintenance, scheduling, designation, classification, disposal, and preservation of records (see Utah Code 63-2-103\(24\)).
- Most appointed records officers (AROs) are responsible for records management and providing access to records; however, a records officer may only have one or the other responsibility. The responsibilities are designated in this list using the following acronyms:
 - ARO-GRA = Appointed records officer - GRAMA: Records officer responsible for providing access to records
 - ARO-RIM = Appointed records officer - records management: Records officer responsible for managing records
